

Festival of Learning

26th October 2018

Ian Gilbert: After leaving the University of Durham in 1988 with a French degree Ian embarked on what was known as a 'Diploma in Entrepreneurial Management' at the Durham University Business School. Part of this year involved a series of workshops, which included a session entitled 'The Psychology of Success'. This was something that made him think – perhaps for the first time ever. Despite success throughout his academic career (O-levels, A grades at A-level, Head Boy, Shiniest Shoes 1981) he now began to realise that there was more to life than waiting to be told what to do and doing it well. Attitude, creativity, taking responsibility, genius, goal setting and much more – all the stuff that he had never been told before but was beginning to wish he had. More to the point, he began to formulate the idea of working with young people to take these ideas into schools around the country.

Jaz Ampaw Farr: Jaz is well known for her TED Talk, The Power of Everyday Heroes. Jaz's authenticity never fails to engage and enrol an audience. Her incredible story of overcoming neglect, focuses on how to leverage a sense of purpose in ourselves to embed ambitious resilience in others. With humility, passion and humour, Jaz signposts the transformative power of seemingly insignificant human interaction and provokes the belief that we all have the capacity to make a difference. Jaz has been wowing audiences internationally for over 20 years as an educator, speaker and accidental reality TV star! Her positive outlook and ability to empower an audience The most frequent word audiences use to describe her is 'inspirational'.

Jackie Beere OBE – Jackie is a leading authority on classroom practice and school leadership. She has worked at every level of the school system from classroom assistant to AST to head teacher and beyond and gained an OBE in the process. Author of the incredibly popular Perfect Ofsted Lesson and editor of the best-selling Perfect Series, Jackie is one of the most in-demand speakers, trainers and consultants around today. She is proof that emotionally-intelligent, child-centred leadership can be rigorous and effective whatever the make-up of the school. Drawing on her rich experience in schools across the UK and abroad she is able to help teachers and school leaders reflect without ever losing sight of the children in the room.
